

Terms and Conditions

Please read these Terms and Conditions of use carefully before accessing, retrieving using any information and services. By accessing the system, you agree to be bound by these terms and conditions (“Terms”) and our Privacy Policy. If you do not accept all these Terms, then you may not use our system. In these Terms, “we”, “us”, “our” or “NCSC” refers to the Netherlands National Cyber Security Centre Suspect Sources System, and “you” or “your” refers to you as a user of Our System.

This section tells you the terms of use (the “Terms and Conditions”) which you agree to when you use the NCSC Suspect Sources System.

General terms of use

By accessing the system, you agree to be bound by these terms and conditions (“Terms”) and our Privacy Policy. If you do not accept all these Terms, then you may not use our system.

You agree to use the System only for lawful purposes and in a manner that does not infringe the rights of, or restrict or inhibit the use and enjoyment of, the System by any third party. Additionally, you must not misuse the System by knowingly introducing viruses, trojans, worms, logic bombs or other material which is malicious or technologically harmful. You must not attempt to gain unauthorised access to the System or any computer or database connected to the System. You must not attack the System via a denial-of-service attack or a distributed denial-of-service attack. Any breach of this provision may be reported to the relevant law enforcement authorities and where necessary we will co-operate with those authorities by disclosing your identity to them.

Use of content

Virus Protection

Whilst you check and test material at all stages of production, you must take your own precautions to ensure that the processes which you employ for accessing the System do not expose you to the risk of viruses, malicious computer code or other forms of interference which may damage your own computer system. It is always wise for you to run an antivirus program on all material downloaded from the Internet. We cannot accept any responsibility for any loss, disruption or damage to your data or your computer system which may occur whilst using material derived from the System.

Privacy statement

We collect and process information about you in accordance with our Privacy Policy. By using the System, you agree to us collecting such information and confirm that any data provided by you is accurate.

Disputes

NCSC may mutually agree that any claims or disputes with you will be brought before the Netherlands Arbitration Institute (NAI). Arbitration, binding advice or mediation will be treated in accordance with a procedure laid down in advance and known to all parties.

Governing law

These Terms and Conditions shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Netherlands. Subject to the above paragraph 'Disputes', any dispute arising under these Terms and Conditions or your use of the System (whether it be contractual or non-contractual), will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of Netherlands.

General

There may be legal notices elsewhere on the System that relate to how you use it. We're not liable if we fail to comply with these terms and conditions because of circumstances beyond our reasonable control.

We might decide not to exercise or enforce any right available to us under these terms and conditions. We can always decide to exercise or enforce that right at a later date. Doing this once will not mean we automatically waive the right on any other occasion. If any of these terms and conditions are held to be invalid, unenforceable or illegal for any reason, the remaining terms and conditions will still apply.

Revision to these terms

We may at any time revise these Terms and Conditions without notice. Please check these Terms and Conditions regularly, as continued use of the Websites after a change has been made is your acceptance of the change. You'll agree to any changes if you continue to use the Websites after the Terms and Conditions have been updated.
